

Read the following text:

Stop That Song!

Sometimes a song does not leave you. You hear it in your mind all the time. You sit at school and you hear it. You eat lunch and you hear it. You play with your friends and you hear it. It is there all the time. It is a song you like, but you do not want to hear it all the time.

This is called “an earworm”. Because the song is like a worm who lives in your ears. It happens to many people. It can happen often and with different songs. It is totally normal.

How can you stop an earworm? We have three tips for you:

- The first tip is to chew gum. It sounds funny, but gum can help your mind relax.
- The second tip is to listen to the song. Play it on your favorite app.
- The third tip is to listen to a different song. The new song usually makes the earworm go away.
